Observatory on Mont Blanc.--We will soon give a picture of the Observatory on the summit of Mont Blanc, Switzerland, which is 15,780 feet above the level of the sea. It is the highest astronomical Observatory in the world, and has only recently been completed. Thinking that a general preview of the astronomical phenomena, which are to be expected daring this year, would lie of interest to our readers, we have prepared the following notes. Eclipses.--There will be four eclipses, two of the Sun and two of the Moon, none of which will be of special interest. The first will be a partial eclipse of the Moon on March 21, beginning at 5h 57m A. M., and ending at 10h 44m A. M., central standard time. Only one-fourth of the Moon...
